LITTLE CHILDREN
TO LEAD VETERANS

Granddaughters of Old Soldiers to Scatter Flowers on Graves of Sleeping Warriors.

Little children will lead the regiments of the dead and the regiments of the living to the graves of the departed. Granddaughters of Confederate soldiers will occupy the big automobiles belonging to Mayor C. E. Kelly Friday, which will lead the parade of veterans of the two armies to the cemetery.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy have undertaken the work of providing flowers for the little girls to use in decorating the graves. In the past only flags have been used for decorative purposes, as the veterans were unable to provide enough flowers. This year the U. D. C. will have headquarters at the Texas Floral company, in Texas street, where a committee will be present Friday morning to receive donations of flowers and wreaths for the Memorial day decoration. These flowers will be carried to the cemetery by the little girls riding in the mayor's auto, and they will cover the graves of the departed heroes while the exercises in memory of the silent army will be held under the trees.

The automobile club has offered to provide enough automobiles for the veterans of the Union and Confederate armies to take them to the cemetery, and they will be on the south side of San Jacinto plaza Friday morning at 9 o'clock. President C. E. Kelly has made an appeal to the members of the Auto club to be present at 9 o'clock in front of the federal building, and has invited automobile owners who do not belong to the club to assist in carrying the veterans, a firing squad from the fort will be detailed to fire the salute.

Summer Skin Humours
Now Quickly Banished

Eczema, Tetter, Lupus, Pimples, Rash, Boils and All Blood Troubles That Attack the Skin Completely Disappear.

Can't Find a Blemish After Using S. S. S.

Now is the time of year to get quick action on any skin disease. The pores are more active during these early days of summer, and this condition should be taken advantage of. The best remedy is S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Its influence in the blood is more healthful, more penetrating, more stimulant, and more productive of noticeable results than anything else ever discovered for the promotion of pure blood.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream, and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S. has such a positive action on the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which regularly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration. Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

It is surprising the amount of real blood purification that is accomplished by a single dose of S. S. S.

This famous remedy has an action unknown to any other. It is made entirely of botanical materials, not drug extracts, but from the native roots, hence contains elements which cannot be obtained in prescriptions or combined in other remedies.

W. M. Adair, a well known groceryman, whose place of business is on Griggs street, met with an accident early this morning on his way from his home to his place of business. He was riding a bicycle and when in front of the home of R. L. Faulkner on Miranda avenue struck a hitching post and was thrown over on the sidewalk. No bones were broken and he is not thought to be seriously hurt. He was riding close to the sidewalk, as the owner of the property on the opposite side of the street from the Faulkner home, was sprinkling the street with the hose.

Miss Edna Holt's condition is not improved and her life is despaired of. She had measles several weeks ago and was able to be on the street, and suffered a relapse. Her two brothers and sisters, who also had measles, are all recovering with the exception of one of the twins, but she is not considered in a dangerous condition.

Bundy on Sunday street yesterday afternoon, with the following in attendance: Mesdames Wooten, Lowe, Saunders, Ward, Freeman, Kelly, John Freeman, Bliss Freeman, Morgan, Isles, McIntire, Kimball and Yeo, and Misses Roberts and Llewellyn. HEAVY SHIPMENTS
OF HAY ARE MADE

More Facilities Needed to Handle the Big Crop Grown Around On Pile.

On-Aple, N. M., May 28.—A great need of the valley during the farming season is two railroads instead of one, and about 10 times as many tracks and freight cars for shipping purposes. There is a constant stream of hay wagons to and from the station from a mile or so out of town, and still lots of hay that cars cannot be procured for, and even if the cars were here, there is not enough track to put them on.

The Aladdin club met at the home of Mrs. L. H. Brandt this week. The new black horse, Mrs. George bought of R. C. Bailey became frightened while taking some ice cream from the school house to the station. The presence of mind of Mrs. Luce saved them from an accident and possible injury to Earl Hill, her little grandson, who was driving.

"Dam the Waste"

When you pay more to one concern than another for an article of the same kind—that's waste! When you pay more for inferior goods—that's foolish; unless you're a philanthropist. Maybe you can afford this occasionally when buying shoes, hat, collar, or necktie—but not life insurance! That calls for regular payments over a long period of years, and unless you start right you're bound to be sorry.

In buying life insurance from the Union Central, of Cincinnati, you dam the waste! Each year the savings in cost are returned to you in dividends. These dividends are the result of superior management—higher interest earnings on invested assets—better selection of risks. No mystery about it! It's simply a business proposition—we earn more—spend less—and return the difference to you annually. We challenge comparison!
